

Call for Papers

Conference Theme:

Complexity, Chinese Culture, & Curriculum Studies

Shanghai, China

November 5-7, 2010 (New Date)

The Institute of Curriculum and Instruction, East China Normal University in Shanghai cordially invites academics, postgraduate students, policy-makers, and school teachers to submit and present papers, symposia and working papers at the annual conference of Complexity and Education which will happen at the campus of East China Normal University in Shanghai, China.

Please submit proposals to Zhang Hua at hzhang@kcx.ecnu.edu.cn by September 1, 2010. For papers and symposia a synopsis of 1500 words is required and for working papers an abstract of 300 words.

The further information will be released through the website of Complexity and Education: <http://www.complexityandeducation.ualberta.ca/>, and the website of Institute of Curriculum and Instruction at East China Normal University: www.kcs.ecnu.edu.cn.

